

The Text

1/It's ten o'clock. The bell rang. The pupils got out of their classrooms. The courtyard was full of noisy pupils shouting and laughing merrily. Five minutes later, the playground was dirty and messy ; remainings of food, yaourt cans, bottles and papers were thrown here and there.

2/ Suddenly, a boy started to cry. He slipped on a banana skin and hurt his hand. The school nurse cleaned his injury and covered the cut with a plaster : « There is nothing serious but you have to be careful » she said. The headmaster came. He shouted at the pupils angrily : « you shouldn't throw litter on the ground . You ought to put waste in garbage cans instead. Similarly, you should be careful when you play in the courtyard »

3/ The pupils apologized for being messy and careless and from that day on, they promised to keep their school clean and tidy and to take care of themselves while playing in the courtyard. Now, they respect the safety rules, help each other and even organise cleaning campaigns at the weekends. The headmaster becomes proud of them .
